

Career Paths for the Teaching Profession

Designed for students interested in a teaching career, Career Paths for the Teaching Profession provides students with information about the challenges and opportunities in education. This pathway will help students learn more about future career options, while their academic coursework, study of the teaching profession and internship experiences provide a solid foundation to explore a career in teaching. Students will also develop a professional portfolio which will summarize their knowledge and experiences in various classrooms from pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade. Partnership opportunities are provided by Ashland University for earning of college credit. Separate application process. See your counselor.
